Dr TAMSANQA WILKINSON KAMBULE A PROFILE

Dr Tamsanqa W Kambule is one of South Africa's most revered educationists, a legend of Mathematics. Born 84 years ago, he dedicated his entire life to the advancement of knowledge and culture of learning. He graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from UNISA.

In 2002 he received the Highest Order the President can bestow on an individual for outstanding service to his country. The Supreme Order of the Baobab. He was Principal and Mathematics Master of four senior secondary/high schools over four decades; Orlando High School, Pace College, Ortstep College of Education and Alexandra Secondary School. He also taught Mathematics at Western High, Hlatikulu Central in Swaziland, and Munsieville Secondary School.

In his state of the Nation Address on 4 February 2000, the President of South Africa, Mr Thabo Mbeki, said of Dr Kambule. "Two days ago I had the privilege to participate at the celebration of the success achieved by a group of Soweto high school students who obtained their matriculation exemptions. What was remarkable about his group is that both their parents and their teachers had given them up because of their involvement in crime and other deviant behaviour.

University of Fort Hare

Nevertheless two outstanding South Africans, Mrs Jacky Maarofanya, who participated in the Soweto Uprising of 1976 and Dr TW Kambule, an old and distinguished teacher and principal now aged 79, decided to act as parent and teacher to these young people. As author, consultant and specialist Mathematics teacher he has received a number of honorary doctorates from MEDUNSA, the Universities of WITS, Venda and Pretoria and Technikon North West.

In 1996 he was commissioned by the North West Premier to assist in promoting the transformation of Education in the North West Education Department which resulted in the TW Kambule Report being published. In the same year he served on a committee set up by the then Minister of Education Professor SM Bhengu, now Chancellor of the University of Fort Hare for Grade 12 examinations which were thereafter restructured and conformed to national rather than provincial standards. During his illustrious career, Dr Kambule has taught and inspired much great South Africans including Nobel peace Prize winner, Desmond Tutu, Kaizer Motaung, the Chief of the Army General Sphiwe Nyanda and also the Commissioner of the SAPS, Jacob Selebi. Dr Kambule held a senior academic post in the Department of Mathematics at WITS University and is an honorary lecturer at WITS in recognition of his contribution to the field of study and education in general.

Dr Kambule has also received "endless" awards in recognition of his work, including the Highest Order by President Mbeki, in 2002, for exceptional contributions to mathematics education, human development and community service. He says that he attained prominence in Mathematics teaching to the extent that he assumed a legendary role. In 2003 he was made an honorary lecturer of Mathematics at the University of the Witwatersrand. He is currently an Honorary member of the Actuarial Society of South Africa. In 1996 the Johannesburg College of Education awarded him a Gold Medal for his distinguished role in mathematics and Education.

Prof Kambule has chaired various committees of national importance. Prof Kambule has also taught outside the country, including Zambia, Malawi, the United States of America, Britain, Germany and in Israel.

It is a privilege for the University of Fort Hare to confer the degree Doctor in Science, honoris causa, on Tamsanqa Wilkinson Kambule.

SIZWE ERROL NXASANA A PROFILE

Sizwe Errol Nxasana counts among the illustrious alumni of the University of Fort Hare who have gone on to shine ephemerally both locally and internationally in the world of business - as educator, businessman, corporate manager and inspirational leader.

Sizwe Nxasana matriculated at Marianhill High School in KwaZulu-Natal, obtained a BCom from the University of Fort Hare, and then went on to qualify as a chartered accountant, a rare qualification for Africans to obtain at the time: there still exists in South Africa a serious under-representation of blacks in the accounting profession.

Cognisant of the then neglect of blacks by the profession, Mr Nxasana joined up with a number of professionals and activists to establish the Association of Black Accountants of South Africa (ABASA) in KwaZulu-Natal, an organization dedicated to the development of black accountants in the country. He was later to lead this organization as its national president for four years. During this time he also actively participated in a number of activities aimed at nurturing black learners interested in the accounting profession. This included lecturing part-time to accounting students at the University of Zululand. Mr Nxasana continues to champion this cause as a trustee of the SA Institute of Chartered Accountants Thuthuka Bursary Fund.

Mr Nxasana also has formidable achievements in the world of business.

- He engineered the merger of five leading black firms to form the largest black accountancy firm in the country, a company that still bears his name as founder member - Sizwe, Ntsaluba VSP.
- As Chief Executive Officer of the multibillion state-enterprise Telkom, a position he has held since 1998, Mr Nxasana has led the transformation of this company into a competitive, profitable and leading entity in the information and communication technology (ICT) industry. Telkom has now risen to be the premier telecommunications company on the African continent, as well as a respected player globally - becoming one of a few parastatals internationally to list with the New York Stock Exchange.

Under Mr Nxasana's leadership Telkom has consistently exceeded industry and government performance expectations with regard to the transformation of the company's staff profile, the improvement of skills levels to meet industry needs, the provision of ICT services to previously under-served citizens, as well as the advancement of black economic empowerment.

Mr Nxasana's contributions to human resource, business and economic development has received numerous awards from the accounting profession and the world of business, including being counted among the Top 10 Business Personalities in South Africa by the Black Business Council.

The University of Fort Hare is proud to honour Sizwe Errol Nxasana for the enterprising spirit and outstanding business sense that built one of South Africa's great companies, and for his passionate commitment to the development and growth towards a better future for all South Africans. We are thus proud to award the degree Doctor in Commerce, honoris causa to Sizwe Errol Nxasana.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN PLANT PHYSIOLOGY

DONALD SCOTT GRIERSON

A PROFILE

An ethnomedical study of plants traditionally used to treat wounds in the Eastern Cape was undertaken. Sangomas, herbalists and health care workers were consulted for information and laboratory research was conducted into antibiotic and ultrastructural properties of some of the most frequently used plants. With the isolation of bio-active compounds, a thorough investigation was completed which justified the traditional use of the plants studied. The ultimate goal of the research was to provide ethnomedical information on the plants not only to the scientific community, but also to the medical fraternity and traditional healers, by way of feedback from the results obtained. The long term objective of this research is to stimulate future initiative in the field of new drug development and sustainable utilization of medicinal compounds from the plants of the Eastern Cape.

Not only is this of importance in the Eastern Cape and South Africa, but also internationally, as diseases such as tuberculosis and AIDS place increasing demands on overburdened health-care systems.

DOCTOR OF LITERATURE AND PHILOSOPHY

MVULA YOYO

A PROFILE

Mvula Yoyo was born in Victoria West, Northern Cape, and received his primary school tuition in the same town. Due to the unavailability of high school education for black learners - at that time - he proceeded to the Eastern Cape where he completed his Matric at the renowned Healdtown High School. The cosmopolitan nature of the school's community - both educators and learners - proved to have a lasting impact on his outlook on life in general, and his attitude towards academia.

After completing his BA degree (majoring in Afrikaans-Nederlands and Geographi) at the University of Fort Hare, Mr Yoyo enrolled for an honours degree in Afrikaans-Nederlands at the same institution. Whilst busy with his postgraduate studies he was appointed as graduate assistant. He then became a member of this department as a substitute lecturer, a position he held for two years before he was eventually offered a permanent post at the same level.

Mr Yoyo's interest in the written word was first nurtured by his mother who always encouraged him to read books in different languages, especially magazines and novels. It thus came as no surprise that he later developed a strong and passionate love for the literary text, and 80% of his honours papers were in this field.

Mvula Yoyo later won a scholarship - sponsored by the International Institute for Education (IIE) - to study towards a Masters degree at the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA), where he enrolled for the MA in Comparative Literature. Whilst enrolled in the programme he also served as research assistant for two years. His academic exposure to feminisms not only rekindled his earlier concern for and interest in 'minority' issues, but strengthened his resolve to pursue these different levels. The topic for his Doctoral thesis also reflects this passion for gender related debates/issues, viz. "Perspectives on womanhood in selected Afrikaans short stories".

As a gender activist Mr Yoyo has addressed numerous gatherings, read papers and conducted workshops - especially on the role of men in promoting gender equality - in the Eastern Cape, Gauteng and the Northern Cape.

In April 2000 Mr Yoyo was nominated by the Minister of National Education, Prof Kader Asmal, to serve on the Council of the University of Stellenbosch. In 2001, he, along with others, assisted Prof Jakes Gerwel to advise the National Minister of Education on issues related to the status of Afrikaans within the Higher Education system - specifically at historically Afrikaans institutions.

Mvula Yoyo was unanimously elected by his colleagues to be the Head of the Afrikaans department from 1999 to 2002. He has also served on numerous faculty committees at Fort Hare, and was requested by the Vice-Chancellor to assist in ensuring that the Admissions and Registration process proceeded smoothly in 2001 and 2002.

In 2001 and 2002 Mr Yoyo served as one of the judges of the prestigious M-Net Book Prize for the Afrikaans category. He is also currently serving as one of the trustees of a black empowerment scheme known as Welkom Trust - sponsored by Naspers since 1998.

Mvula Yoyo has delivered academic papers at national conferences and has a few publications to his credit. He is currently serving as the Chairperson of the Board of Directors of the IsiXhosa National Lexicography Unit, established under the auspices of the Pan South African language Board, and is also consulting editor of the revamped Tydskrif vir Afrikaanse letterkunde.

The quality and relevance of Mr Yoyo's research work towards this degree is best summed up by the following comments from one of the external examiners: "The candidate should be congratulated on the choice of his field of research for this degree. The feminist discourse is in its infancy and the candidate's review of short prose texts in Afrikaans from a feminist perspective makes a significant contribution to the discourse. Future researchers in the field will have to take cognizance of this thesis and as a practical guide to teachers of Afrikaans literature it will be of considerable value. It must be mentioned that this is a particularly well written thesis. The candidate reveals himself as a master of his medium".

Mr Yoyo celebrates this achievements with his three daughters.

ENGLISH TRANSLATION OF NTSIKANA'S HYMN

(Elele/homna – exclamation and praise words)
You are the Great God who dwells in the heavens.
You are the true shield.
You are the true fortress.
You are the true forest (of refuge)
It is you who dwell in the highest.

You created life, you created on high.
You are the creator who created the heavens
You created the stars and the Pleiades.
A Star flashed forth, bringing us your message.
You created the blind - did you not create them for a purpose?

The trumpet has sounded, it has called us.
You are the hunter who hunts souls.
You gather together flocks rejecting each other.
You are the Great Blanket with which we are clothed.

Your hands are wounded.
Your feet are wounded.
Your blood - why is it streaming?
Your blood was poured out for us.
Are we worthy of such a ransom?
Are we worthy to enter your homestead.

Elele homna!

Arranged JK Bokwe, and as performed by ST Bokwe
